PREFACE.

The Tripp records contained in this small volume do not comprise a full genealogy of the Tripp family in America. No such work has yet been undertaken so far as the writer has ascertained. These records were mainly gathered while the author was engaged in collecting data for his Dean family history. As he is related by blood to Isaac Tripp, the first of the Tripp name to settle in Luzerne county contemporaneously with his Dean ancestor, he was easily persuaded by some of his Tripp relatives to continue his labor and print the result of his researches and correspondence for the benefit of all who might be interested in the Tripp family records. While the original plan of the author to print and bind the two family records together has been carried out in the main, he has deemed it best to issue a limited number of copies of the Tripp book separately for the benefit of those who are not interested in the Dean records, and thus enable them to procure the part they want at a small cost.

The chief merit the author claims for this work is its accuracy, so far as painstaking care would lead to that end. That there are numerous errors which readers will discover he readily concedes. Seldom has he found two persons who would furnish exactly similar copies of the records of the same family. As his information has come to him mainly in copies furnished by some member of a family, he has had few opportunities of proving the accuracy of the record.

That this record is incomplete in some lines is due to the fact that all trace of some branches of a family is lost, and letters mailed to the last known address have elicited no reply.

Much delay has been caused by the dilatoriness of correspondents who seem to think that any time is as good as the present for matters of so little importance as family history.

The plan of this work is quite simple, and a brief explanation will enable any one whose name appears, or who can trace his descent from any of those herein named, to follow back his line to the immigrant and founder of the family in America, John Tripp, of Portsmouth, R. I. The numeral at the end of the Christian name represents the generation, counting from John as of the first generation. The consecutive figures in heavy type in front of each name, is the number of the individual and reappears in brackets in the center of the page when that individual is discussed or becomes the head of a family. The general index of Tripps at the end of the book indicates the page where the individual is to be found.

that he is son of Charles<sup>9</sup>, whose number is 158, and he the son of Danford<sup>8</sup> C. No. 155, who was son of Thomas<sup>7</sup> No. 124, who was son of William<sup>6</sup> No. 12, who was son of Job<sup>5</sup> No. 3, who was son of Isaac<sup>4</sup> No. 1, the founder of the family in Luzerne county, Pa., who is assumed to be the son of Job<sup>3</sup> of Peleg<sup>2</sup> of John<sup>1</sup> by the process of reasoning contained in pages two and three.

The author takes this opportunity of expressing the hope that all who read these pages will take new and deeper interest in collecting and preserving family records so that the task will be less difficult for the future genealogist who undertakes the work of preparing a complete history of the Tripp family in America.

The Tripp Family.

The fact that the writer's grandmother was a Tripp, and her family prominent in the history of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, is a sufficient reason to warrant the putting into permanent form such records as he has been able to gather of this family. The Tripps in this vicinity, as well as many others of the name scattered over the United States, spring from John Tripp, who came from England and located at Portsmouth, R. I., in 1638, when about 28 years of age. He was a carpenter by trade. His wife was Mary Paine, daughter of Anthony Paine. He was a prominent citizen, filling the office of deputy many terms, also member of the town council. He died in 1678. His children were:

JOHN, born about 1640.
PELEG, born about 1642.
JOSEPH, born about 1644.
MARY, born about 1646.
ELIZABETH, born about 1648.
ISABEL, born about 1651.
ABIEL, born about 1653.
JAMES, born about 1656.
MARTHA, born about 1658.

It is the writer's belief that our family of Tripps are descended from Peleg, second son of John Tripp. The reasons for this belief will be given later when discussing the family of Job Tripp.

Peleg Tripp married Anna Sisson, daughter of Richard Sisson, the immigrant.

It is a curious circumstance that in my own household, after many years, the Tripp and Sisson blood is again united.

My grandmother was a Tripp, making me a descendant of John Tripp, and my wife was a Sisson, direct descendant of Richard Sisson, hence in my children is united the blood of these old Tripp and Sisson immigrants.

Austen's Dictionary of Rhode Island families which furnishes the data concerning the first three generations of Tripps does not give the dates of birth of Peleg's children, but their names in the following order :

JOHN. aff 1667

PRISCILLA.

SARAH.

JOB. ←

PELEG.

MARY.

ANN.

MEHITABLE.

RICHARD.

Judging from the birth dates of the children of John Tripp, oldest brother of Peleg, we can safely fix the birth of Peleg's first child at about 1667, and allowing two years between births would give 1683 as the date of the last child, Richard's birth.

Job, the fourth child, would fall on or about 1673. It is from this Job, son of Peleg, that we believe the Tripp family in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties descends. The evidence is far from satisfactory or conclusive, but in absence of definite proof we must be content with such as can be had. The prevalence of the name Job in our Tripp line leads us to attach our family to Job rather than to any other descendant of John. We know that Job was born not far from 1673. We find the birth of a second Job recorded in Arnold's Vital Records of Rhode Island, on 20 April, 1701, who could have been a son of the first Job. This second Job had a son Job, born 28 June, 1734. We have discovered no record of the birth of our ancestor, the first Isaac, who came from Rhode Island among the early emigrants to the Wyoming Valley, but we can approximate the time, as he was an old man when killed by the Indians in 1778. Hence he could have been born any time from 1700 to 1710. We know he had a son Job, as will be shown later. The only Job we know of who could have been Isaac's brother is Job 2d, born 20 April, 1701, whom we have assumed to be the son of Job 1st, son of Peleg. There was only one Job in the 3d generation of Tripps in this Rhode Island family, and there was no Isaac, hence the most reasonable conclusion is that our Isaac<sup>4</sup> was a brother of Job<sup>4</sup>, son of Job<sup>3</sup>, son of Peleg<sup>2</sup>, son of John<sup>1</sup>.

Job Tripp was admitted a citizen of Newport in 1726 ; was deputy or member of the Assembly for North Kingston in 1734 and 1738<sup>1</sup>.

A Job Tripp was deputy for the town of Exeter in 1757<sup>2</sup>.

Job Tripp, Jr., was admitted a citizen of Exeter in 1757<sup>3</sup>.

Job Tripp was admitted a citizen of Warwick in 1759<sup>4</sup>.

Our definite family records of Tripps begins with the 1st Isaac, born about 1700. We know nothing certain of his birth either as to time or place, and only inferentially as to his parentage. The vital records of many towns in Rhode Island are in a defective condition due to fire, ravages of the public enemy and natural decay. Hence it is not strange that many names are lost even if once placed upon the town records. We learn from history that Isaac was a Quaker in religion, a faith that had many followers in the early days of Rhode Island. That he was a man of ability and substance will appear from the circumstances herein recorded. An Isaac Tripp, either father or son, was admitted a citizen of Warwick in 1758<sup>5</sup>.

For some time he resided at Pomfret, Conn., as shown by deeds recorded in Warwick, R. I. Deed of Godfrey Malbone, of Newport, to Isaac Tripp, of Pomfret, Conn., 6 August, 1757. Mortgage, Isaac Tripp, of Pomfret, Conn., to God-

Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, Sr., was one of the early settlers in the Wyoming Valley, and no doubt the occasion of his selling his property in Warwick, R. I., was to enable him to invest largely in the new settlement on the Susquehanna and Lackawanna rivers. As early as 1768, he, with another of the writer's ancestors, Ezra Dean, was appointed as a committee for Rhode Island to admit the first two hundred settlers under the Connecticut title to lands in Wyoming Valley; and Isaac Tripp was on the same day appointed to serve on a committee with Benjamin Follett, John Jenkins, William Buck and Benjamin Shoemaker, "to approve, admit, oversee, superintend, manage, and order the affairs and proceedings of the first forty settlers, to receive and order the moneys granted to their use, to lay out and prepare a convenient road to said Susquehanna river, etc."<sup>1</sup>

After the ineffectual attempt to make a permanent settlement in 1763, Isaac Tripp, with the first forty settlers arrived in the valley 8 February, 1769.

We have seen in the earlier part of this book<sup>2</sup> that Ezra Dean was one of these forty settlers.

It is quite likely that these two men, Isaac Tripp and Ezra Dean, were neighbors and intimate friends in Rhode Island, as both were agents of the Connecticut Susquehanna Company for that State, and together shared the dangers and privations of pioneers in a new country surrounded with Indian foes, and whites no less hostile. On their arrival they found the improveménts and blockhouse erected by their friends in 1762 in the possession of the Pennsylvania proprietors, under command of Captain Amos Ogden. Isaac Tripp and Benjamin Follett of the executive committee, and Vine Elderken, were selected to negotiate with Ogden, at his invitation. No sooner were they within the fort than they were arrested by Sheriff Jennings, and were carried off to Easton jail. Here they quickly secured bail and returned to Wyoming<sup>1</sup>.

Thus began the Pennymite war which was waged with great fury and much bloodshed between the settlers, under the Connecticut title, and the Pennsylvania proprietors. During these trying times Isaac Tripp was a prominent man in the colony. If the Westmoreland records were only within reach of the anxious inquirer for facts relating to the early history of the valley, much interesting family data would, no doubt, be disclosed concerning Isaac Tripp and his children. But these valuable records have long been lost or destroyed. It is only an occasional glimpse into the past that we now can gain after diligent research. We find that the town of Exeter, in Luzerne county, just north of Kingston, was granted to Isaac Tripp, John Jenkins and Jonathan Dean 28 November, 1772<sup>2</sup>.

In 1777 Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp was representative to the Connecticut assembly for Westmoreland, the name of the town comprising the Wyoming valley, which was attached to the county of Litchfield<sup>1</sup>.

In a letter of Judge Jesse Fell of Wilkes-Barre to the state commissioners, dated 29 May, 1802, he states that the grant of the town of Providence had been obtained by Isaac Tripp<sup>2</sup>.

The Susquehanna Company on 2 June, 1773, appointed Gideon Baldwin, Timothy Keys, and Isaac Tripp, directors or proprietors of Providence<sup>3</sup>.

A list<sup>4</sup> of the original owners of lots in the certified town of Providence is given by Isaac Tripp, son of Isaac Tripp, Esq., as they existed 22 March, 1773, in which it appears that Isaac Tripp, Esq.,	was owner of lot No.	13.

Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp settled on the Capouse meadows, now within the city of Scranton, as early as 1771, as also did his son-in-law, Jonathan Slocum<sup>5</sup>.

His son Isaac<sup>5</sup> Tripp, Jr., was a purchaser in the same locality between 1772 and 1775. Isaac Tripp purchased certified lot No. 14, of Daniel Adams, 7 July, 1774. The deed is copied entire in Hollister's History of Lackawanna Valley<sup>6</sup>.

21 October, 1788, Matthew Taylor, of Danbury, Conn., sells to Isaac Tripp, of Susquehannah, one-half of certified lot No. 11 of Providence<sup>1</sup>.

9 October, 1789, John Staples of Wilkes-Barre, sells to Isaac Tripp one-half of right No. 7 at Providence, and recites that Staples got it of Captain John Howard, of Windham, Conn., who got it of the proprietors<sup>2</sup>.

Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, Sr., was killed by Indians after the Wyoming massacre, 16 December, 1778, while assisting his son-in-law, Jonathan Slocum, to feed stock from a stack in the field on the Slocum farm where now is the city of Wilkes-Barre. Slocum was also killed and a son William wounded<sup>3</sup>.

It would be interesting to many readers to find here an account of the capture of Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp's granddaughter, Frances Slocum, by the Indians, and her long captivity and life as the wife of an Indian chief; but it would be too long for insertion in a family record of this character. It must suffice to say that when she was discovered by her brothers in 1837, she refused to leave her home with her children, near Peru, Indiana, and return to civilization. I must refer those who are interested in her history to the account found in Miner's History of Wyoming, Peck's History of Wyoming, and a more complete and later account in Maginnis' Life of Frances Slocum.

The family record of Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, Sr., is not authentic. No private or official record has thus far been found. Some of his children are known, but whether the list here given is complete or not, we do not know. The oldest living descendant of whom we have knowledge is Mrs. Polly (Tripp) Robbins, living at 1422 N. Main avenue, Scranton, Pa., who is a daughter of Stephen Tripp, son of Isaac Tripp, Jr., of Providence, hence great granddaughter of Isaac Tripp, Esq., the first of the name to settle in Wyoming Valley. Mrs. Robbins tells the writer that from tradition the family of Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, Sr., was the following : By his first wife, who was a Sweet<sup>1</sup>, he had a son William<sup>5</sup>, who was a sailor, and no record of him is preserved.

He married for his 2d wife a Spencer, and had two children : Job<sup>5</sup> and Ruth<sup>5</sup>. He married for his 3d wife, Sarah Dow, and had Isaac<sup>5</sup> and Henry<sup>5</sup> Dow Tripp.

Assuming the tradition to be correct we would then have the following as the record of Isaac Tripp's children :

- 2. WILLIAM<sup>5</sup>.
- 3. JOB<sup>5</sup>.
- 4. RUTH<sup>5</sup>.
- 5. ISAAC<sup>5</sup>.
- 6. HENRY<sup>5</sup> Dow.

We also find in the Rhode Island records an account of a Samuel Tripp, son of Isaac Tripp, of Exeter, born 19 April, 1735, and died 10 June, 1798<sup>2</sup>. His age would make him contemporary with the children of our Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, but as we have no proof or tradition that he was of the same family, we have not included him in the list of our Isaac's children.

It is somewhat remarkable that so little is known of Job Tripp's descendants by the family of his brother Isaac. My father, Isaac Dean, who has the widest acquaintance of any person living, with the descendants of Isaac, knows nothing of Job's family, though many live in the same and adjoining counties. What data I have been able to collect has been secured from records or correspondence with members of the family. I will follow the same plan with the Tripp as in the Dean genealogy, taking up each child of Job<sup>4,5</sup>, and writing all that has been learned of such child and his or her descendants before taking up the family of Isaac, which will then be treated in the same manner.

Job Tripp and Descendants.

Job<sup>5</sup> Tripp (Isaac<sup>4</sup>, Job<sup>3</sup>, Peleg<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>). We have no record of the birth of this Job Tripp, but we can approximate to its date. If it was his father who married Sarah Sweet in 1729, and after her death married a Spencer, and Job was the first child of this union, he was born probably not earlier than 1731, nor later than 1736. He married 16 May, 1757, Hannah Rice, daughter of William Rice, deceased<sup>1</sup>. We have no record of the time or place of his death, but it was prior to 1792.

Mrs. Polly Tripp Robbins says that Job Tripp lived below Lackawanna, and was buried in the old Griffin burying ground near Bull's Head, between Hyde Park and Providene. A careful search in this ground revealed no stone with his name or initials upon it.

On 8 January, 1793, John<sup>6</sup> Tripp, administrator of Job<sup>5</sup> Tripp, late of Providence, conveys<sup>2</sup> to Micajah Harding, lot No. 15, in Providence, for the sum of 48 pounds, 10 shillings.

Job<sup>5</sup> Tripp was the administrator of his father's estate, and this fact would go to confirm the tradition related by Mrs. Polly (Tripp) Robbins that Job<sup>5</sup> was the oldest living son of his father, Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp.

Job Tripp, administrator of Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, conveyed lot No. 12, Providence, to Isaac<sup>5</sup> Tripp for 365 pounds, 12 August, 1788, and recites: "I, Job Tripp, of Providence, administrator of my father, Isaac Tripp, late of Providence, deceased, etc"<sup>1</sup>.

This recital in the above-mentioned deed fully confirms the memorandum carefully preserved to this day, which I took when a youth from a conversation with my great aunt, Nancy Tripp Vaughan. My curiosity was aroused by her relating the circumstances of her grandfather's death at the hands of savages. I then copied her father's family record, the only one I know to be in existence at this time, and I also noted down other family history which she related, among which was the statement that her father Isaac<sup>5</sup> had a brother Job.

I have as yet obtained no authoritative record of Job's children, but from information received from Mrs. Polly Tripp Robbins, Hosea Phillips, Rhode Island vital records, and other sources, I give the list below, but am not sure that it is complete.

Was born in Warwick, Rhode Island, 27 November, 1760. He came with his father, Job<sup>5</sup> Tripp, to Providence, Pa., about 1771. Soon after the bloody massacre which occurred 3 July, 1778, in the Wyoming Valley, Squire Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp and his grandson, Isaac<sup>6</sup> Tripp, with two other young men, Keys and Hocksey, were captured by the Indians at Providence. The old man, who was a Quaker, and had been friendly with the Indians, they painted and dismissed. The young men were taken through Leggett's Gap into the forests of Abington. Near the present village of Clark's Summit, Keys and Hocksey were tomahawked and scalped. Tradition says that when the bloody knives were flourished around young Tripp's head he never winced, and on account of his bravery they spared his life. He was carried off with much suffering to Canada, where he was retained in captivity till after the end of the LYDIA<sup>8</sup> TRIPP, ( of Job<sup>5</sup> ) married first a Hard-ing. We do not know his first name or anything of his family. We know that she survived her husband, and on 17 November, 1816, she was married by Elder John Miller to Deacon John Phillips, of Abington, as his second wife. At the time of her second marriage her residence is given by Elder Miller as Deer Park, N. Y.<sup>1</sup> She died 4 December, 1840.

( 10 )

Of MARY<sup>8</sup> TRIPP ( of Job<sup>5</sup> ) we know nothing. She may not have lived to maturity. The only record is that of her birth in the Rhode Island vital statistics for Warwick.

probably came with his father about 1771. He married Martha Phillips, daughter of Deacon John Phillips, 16 December, 1789. Deacon Phillips was then a resident of Pittston.

On 6 June, 1792, John Phillips deeds<sup>1</sup> to his son-in-law, John Tripp, 100 acres of land in Pittston "in consideration of love and good will." The residence of both parties was stated to be Pittston.

21 August, 1793, William Donaldson deeds<sup>2</sup> to John Tripp, 700 acres of land in Exeter township, Luzerne county, Pa. On 10 November, 1794, John deeds<sup>3</sup> 300 acres of this land to William Tripp, of Exeter, who, I am convinced, was a brother of John Tripp, and on 18 March, 1795, he deeds<sup>4</sup> the remaining 400 acres of this land to his father-in-law, John Phillips.

John Tripp was the administrator of his father, Job Tripp's estate.

On 17 December, 1791, he presented a petition<sup>5</sup> to the Orphans' Court of Luzerne county, asking for an order to sell his father's real estate to pay debts exceeding his personal property by 59£, 13s., 10p., and the Court granted the order. The sureties of the administrator were John Phillips and Ebenezer Slocum. The residence of Job Tripp was stated as late of Providence.

As administrator of Job Tripp, John Tripp, deeds<sup>6</sup>, 8 January, 1793, lot 15 in Providence, comprising 375 acres, with a log house, to Micajah Harding for 48£, 10s., and Harding promptly reconveys<sup>1</sup> this land to John Tripp, in his private capacity. 10 May, 1794, John Tripp sells<sup>2</sup> 210 acres of lot 15 to John Staples for 100£., and the same day sells<sup>3</sup> the balance of lot 15 to Stephen Gardner, of Providence, for 100£. This looks like a pretty good deal for John Tripp to sell at over 400 per cent. profit, but had he kept this 375 acres of coal land in the heart of the city of Scranton a hundred years, or even less, it would have made his family millionaires. This land afterwards came into the family of Isaac Tripp, the uncle of John. Hosea Phillips, now living at Justus, Lackawanna county, Pa., over ninety years of age, who is a nephew of John Tripp, says that his uncle lived near Priceburg, between Scranton and Olyphant, and was buried in a cemetery which was vacated when the boulevard was constructed. John Tripp was a carpenter by trade. His children were :

- 75. WILLIAM<sup>7</sup>, born 4 September, 1790.
- 76. JAMES<sup>7</sup>, born 25 May, 1792.
- 77. SARAH<sup>7</sup>, born 1 November, 1794.

WILLIAM<sup>7</sup> TRIPP (of John<sup>6</sup>). I have not been able to get any trace of this Tripp by correspondence with other members of John's family. If there was such a son, it is strange that some of the relatives do not remember of his existence. He may have died young, and so left no family. I have no record of his death or of his leaving any descendants. His name appears first in the list of John's children published in 1901, by Mary Besecker Stone, in writing a history of the Stephen Miller family. She drew her information as to the Tripp connection largely from the records of Deacon John Phillips, whose daughter, Martha, was John Tripp's wife.

DAVID<sup>7</sup> TRIPP (of John<sup>6</sup>). I have been able to learn little of this son of John Tripp or of his family. In 1838, David and his family, in company with his sister, Mary or Polly Millard and her husband, having built a canal boat at Pittston, migrated to the west. They went by canal to Pittsburg (using the railroad over the mountain), then by the Ohio river to Evansville, Ind. Their boat was thirty-eight feet long, and was their home from Pittston to Evansville, Ind. Here the two families parted and lost sight of each other. As strange as it may seem, the families kept up no correspondence, and I am unable to get the names of David's children. David died a few years after moving to Indiana. His wife's name was Elizabeth or Betsy. The oldest son was Ralph, another Zacheus, and there were some girls whose names could not be ascertained.

They resided in Warwick, R. I., where he followed the trade of blacksmith. As early as 1771 he was in Providence, Pa., as is shown by this record : "A lot surveyed to Colonel Lodwick Ojidirk in ye township called ye Capoose Meadows, passed into the hands of Jonathan Slocum in 1771, on account of Slocum's doeing ye duty of a settler for Ojidirk."<sup>2</sup>

It is believed that his family settled at Wilkes-Barre as early as 1774.

On 6 November, 1775, he received a deed from Jonathan Fitch for lot number 15, in the second division of the town plot of Wilkes-Barre. He settled within a hundred yards of Wilkes-Barre fort, and there his daughter Frances was captured by the Indians 2 November, 1778, and carried into captivity. On the 16th of December, 1778, Jonathan Slocum and his father-in-law, Isaac Tripp, were killed by the Indians while they were feeding cattle from a stack in the meadow in sight of the fort.

The children of Jonathan Slocum and Ruth<sup>5</sup> Tripp Slocum were:

Isaac Tripp and Descendants.

We do not know much of the active life of this ancestor. His name does not appear so prominently in the history of Luzerne county as does that of his father, Isaac<sup>4</sup>. We know that he was a large land owner in the early settlement of Providence, Pa., and was active in its material development. He owned a still house, and with his son Stephen built the first grist mill on Leggett's creek. He must have been one of the wealthiest men in the valley, judging from the taxes assessed against his property. In 1796 there were 90 taxables in Providence township, which extended from Rix's Gap to Pittston, and Isaac Tripp's tax was $15.89, while the next largest tax was $4.69<sup>1</sup>.

We do not know exactly when this Isaac settled in the valley, but we can tell very closely when his family was brought there from the family record which fortunately notes the birth place of each child. This tells us that the family came to Providence between 1784, and 1787. It is quite likely that Isaac<sup>5</sup> was there with his father Isaac<sup>4</sup> prior to the former date.

Isaac<sup>5</sup> Tripp was born at East Greenwich, R. I., 27 July, 1743. Martha Wall, his wife, was born at East Greenwich, R. I., 29 January, 1745.

The date of their marriage is not given, but they must have been a youthful couple, as their first child was born when the father was under twenty and the mother was a little over eighteen. Their children were :

192. ELIZABETH<sup>6</sup>, born at Pomfret, Connecticut, 6 March, 1763.

193. MARY<sup>6</sup> (Polly), born at East Greenwich, Rhode Island, 5 May, 1765.

194. WILLIAM<sup>6</sup>, born at East Greenwich, Rhode Island, 11 July, 1767.

197. AMASA<sup>6</sup>, born at East Greenwich, Rhode Island, 8 April, 1774.

The will of Isaac<sup>5</sup> Tripp, dated 11 April, 1804, with a codicil dated 23 August, 1806, is on record at Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne county, Pa., in Will Book A, Page 84. Letters were granted to his widow, Martha Tripp, 18 August, 1807.

The will declares that he has disposed of his real estate principally by deed of gifts to his five sons, William, Stephen, Amasa, Isaac and Holden. He accordingly gives his personal estate principally to his daughters. Isaac died 22 May, 1807. Martha died 27 January, 1809.

WILLIAM<sup>7</sup> HENRY AUGUSTUS TRIPP (of William<sup>6</sup>) was born 25 June, 1802, near Marietta, Washington county, Ohio. His grandmother Holbert brought him to Athens county, Ohio, thence to Nelsonville, and from there to Logan, Hocking county, Ohio, where he married Nancy A. Roby, who was born 14 May, 1805, in Harrison county, Virginia. She died 9 November, 1894. They lived in Hocking county about two years, then moved to Haydensville, Athens county, Ohio. Of his nine sons, seven were in the Union army at the same time. The father was a Whig, and the sons all belonged to the Republican party, in fact it would be difficult to find a Democrat in all the Tripp family of this branch, at least. He died 20 January, 1849. ## Amasa Tripp & Descendants.

AMASA<sup>6</sup> TRIPP (of Isaac<sup>5</sup>) was born in East Greenwich, R. I., 8 April, 1774. His father, in his migration from R. I., stopped with his family some years at Rhinebeck, N. Y., at least the years from 1778 to 1784, as we learn from the family record which gives the birth of three of his children at the latter place.

His father, who was a very large land owner in the Township of Providence, now city of Scranton, divided his land among his sons, but Amasa sold his portion and moved to the frontier of civilization at that time, and located at Leroy, Genesee county, N. Y. The land that he sold for a trifling sum would now bring a fortune, as it was some of the best coal land in the Lackawanna Valley. He married Jerusha Dolph, of Providence, Pa.

The writer has had great difficulty in learning the little he has gathered concerning this branch of the Tripp family. Though Amasa Tripp was my father's uncle, and my father has visited in his ninety-one years of life many branches of his mother's family, going three times to the Pacific coast within the last fifteen years, yet he had almost no acquaintance with this family, and only an indistinct recollection of the names of some of Amasa's children. Many letters of inquiry still remain unanswered, and it was late in the progress of this work before the little I now record was elicited. I regret that no better and fuller account can at this time be furnished for the benefit of all who are interested in obtaining a full and correct family record. The following is probably a correct list of Amasa's children, but as birth dates are not given, it is not certain that the order is that of their ages :

- 301. HENRY<sup>7</sup>.
- 302. HOLDEN<sup>7</sup>.
- 303. ISAAC<sup>7</sup>.
- 304. CHANDLER<sup>7</sup>
- 305. HORACE<sup>7</sup>.

( 301 )

HENRY<sup>7</sup> TRIPP (of Amasa<sup>6</sup>) was born in Pennsylvania 4 March, 1799, before his father removed to New York State. He married Lydia Guthrie, who died 25 March, 1875.

He went as a youth to Leroy, N. Y., where he resided until he was twenty-five years of age, when he selected a farm on Beech Ridge, Pendleton, Niagara county, N. Y., which he occupied until his death, which occurred 24 April, 1891, in his 93rd year. He was a man of strong character, with many excellent qualities of mind and heart.

He was early inured to toil, and among the pleasant reminiscences of his boyhood was his service as a teamster when only 14 years of age, in furnishing the soldiers with supplies in the war of 1812. His wife preceded him to the grave about 16 years, and for the last 8 years of his life he was confined to his bed by rheumatism from which he had suffered much in previous years. He left to survive him three sons and three daughters, Daniel, Henry, Chandler, Mrs Lydia Kinne, Mrs. Jerusha A. Harper, Mrs. Caroline Redfield. He was interred in Bear Ridge Cemetery.

His children were as follows :

310. AMASA<sup>8</sup>, born 29 September, 1826, died 17 November, 1892.

Mr. Tripp, for a number of years, was in the tobacco trade with J. W. Garney in the City of Scranton, Pa. His health failing, he removed to Philadelphia, where he remained a few years and returned to Scranton and traveled as a salesman for the Stowers Packing Co. He was compelled by ill health to give up business, and recently took up his residence with his only surviving child, George B. Tripp, in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The record of his family is as follows:

IRA<sup>7</sup> TRIPP (of Isaac<sup>8</sup>), married 20 February, 1838, Rosanna Shoemaker, daughter of Jacob I. Shoemaker, of Wyoming, Pa. She was born 26 September, 1817, and died 29 April, 1899. Ira Tripp died 3 August, 1891. Like most of the Tripp family for many generations, he was a farmer by occupation. He inherited one of the best farms in the Lackawanna valley, rich in fertility as to the surface, and vastly more rich by reason of the veins of "black diamonds," or anthracite coal, which underlie the whole extent of his possessions. He was the last of his name to retain a portion of the land which his grandfather and great-grandfather had acquired when the valley was first settled by the hardy and venturesome pioneers from the Eastern states. He left no son to survive him, and the old Tripp home, which for generations had been the centre of boundless hospitality and good cheer, has now passed into the hands of strangers.

Ira Tripp for many years was a conspicuous figure in the history of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties. His extremely heavy and long white beard, in later life, was a feature that attracted attention wherever he appeared. His jovial disposition and hearty manner made him hosts of friends in all directions, and probably no man in Lackawanna county had more or stronger friends. In early life he was appointed an aide-de-camp on the staff of Gov. Pollock, with the rank of Lieut. Colonel, which gave him his military title of Colonel. In 1861 he enlisted as a private in the Eighth Pennsylvania Regiment, and served nine months as hospital steward. He was captured by the enemy, but his good nature and easy manner ensured him kind treatment and an early exchange. He died 3 August, 1891, leaving a large estate to his widow and two grandchildren, children of his deceased son Leander.

The following is a record of his family:

490. ISAAC<sup>8</sup> C., born 28 March, 1839, died 11 October, 1882.

491. LEANDER<sup>8</sup> S., born 27 February, 1841, died 22 June, 1876.

492. WILLIAM<sup>8</sup> R., born 26 January, 1846, died 12 September, 1847.

493. GERTRUDE<sup>8</sup>, born 18 January, 1848, died 3 May, 1874.

(491)

LEANDER<sup>8</sup> S. TRIPP (of Ira<sup>7</sup>), married Jennie Pierce, daughter of William Pierce, of Providence, Pa.

(493)

GERTRUDE<sup>8</sup> TRIPP (of Ira<sup>7</sup>) born 18 January, 1848, died 3 May, 1874, unmarried. She was small in stature, bright and vivacious in manner, and overflowing with good nature and generous impulses. She was the pet of the household and loved and admired by a wide circle of acquaintances. Her death, occurring in the flush of young womanhood, surrounded by all the attractions and luxuries that wealth and affection could bestow, cast a gloom, not only over the immediate family and relatives, but wherever she was known. The name of Gertie Tripp brings back, after nearly thirty years, the recollection of the bright, attractive image of the cousin who always had a smile and pleasant word of greeting for all without regard to wealth or position, whom no flattery or attention could spoil, but who remained the kind, generous and lovable girl until the last sad day when the angel of death bore her spirit away to her heavenly home above.

(465)

MAHALA<sup>7</sup> TRIPP (of Isaac<sup>6</sup>), married October, 1836, Aretus Heermans, son of Henry Heermans,

( 466 )

ISAAC<sup>7</sup> TRIPP (of Isaac<sup>6</sup>), married (1) 17 February, 1840, by Rev. E. H. Snowden, Margaret Shoemaker, daughter of Jacob Shoemaker, of Wyoming, Pa. She was born 30 May, 1822, and died 23 November, 1856. Married (2) 28 December, 1861, by Rev. William Frear, Hannah Rogers, who was born 16 February, 1834.

Mr. Tripp, like most of his family, was a farmer by occupation. He settled in Kingston, Pa., in 1854, on the place late the property of Frank Helme. In 1859 he purchased the "Abbott farm" at Forty Fort, Pa., comprising 138 acres. This farm, under Mr. Tripp's skillful management, became one of the most productive ones in the far-famed Wyoming Valley. For some years tobacco was a staple crop, and extensive sheds were built for the curing and preparing of the product for market. He was a lover of fine cattle, and was quite an extensive dairyman. At one time he raised a cow that was the wonder of the community for size. It weighed over 2,000 pounds. Though this farm was rich and productive in an agricultural point of view, its fertility was but a small element of its value. The settlement of old Kingston has grown beyond its original bounds and now has extended past Dorranceton to Forty Fort, bringing the Tripp farm into market for building purposes. But the greatest value lies under the surface in the shape of the best veins of anthracite coal to be found in the coal region. These are now under lease to a mining company, and bring a revenue that would have astonished the early Connecticut settlers, who had no comprehension of the underground wealth when they fought Indians and white men for the possession of this beautiful valley.

The family of Mr. Tripp was as follows:

MARTHA<sup>6</sup> TRIPP (of Isaac<sup>5</sup>), married Elisha Miller. We have some knowledge of the ancestry of this relative. His grandfather, Alexander Miller, came from Ireland when eleven years of age, but was raised as a Yankee in Windham County, Conn. He became a Presbyterian clergyman, and later a Congregationalist. He was an eminent scholar and dignified preacher. Elisha's father was also named Alexander, a man of more than ordinary talents, with refined manners and a good education. He was of the Universalist faith. His home was in the town of Voluntown, Windham County, Conn. He married Mercy Hall, who was raised in the same neighborhood. She was a Baptist in religious belief, and a member of a church some miles distant in Rhode Island.

When Elisha was about four years of age his father removed to Plainfield, Conn., in the same county. He had a family of six children, five boys and one girl. I have learned the names of only three of the children. John, the oldest of the family, became an eminent Baptist preacher, the pioneer minister in the northern part of Luzerne County, Pa., settling in Abington in February, 1802, when the county was almost a wilderness. He preached till his death, which occurred 19 February, 1857. Another son was Anthony Miller, who settled in Michigan, near Lake Huron. Elisha Miller was born 30 August, 1785, and died 2 August, 1842. He settled in Genesee County, N. Y., and was a substantial farmer, residing near Byron Center, N. Y. He married Martha Tripp 3 December, 1809. She was born 6 September, 1781, and died 21 December, 1855.

Henry<sup>5</sup> Dow Tripp.

The family of Tripps in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties have lost all trace of this relative and his descendants, if any there were. He probably left the valley prior to 1800. For some reason he had made himself obnoxious to the Connecticut Company, which controlled the settlement at Wyoming. In the possession of the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society at Wilkes-Barre is a manuscript copy of some of the minutes and proceedings of the Connecticut Susquehanna Company. On page 24 of this copy appears this resolution: "That Dow Tripp be excluded from the number of said forty, and any right in the Township."

The Recorder's office at Wilkes-Barre contains the record of a deed dated 6 September, 1794, from Isaac D. Tripp, of New York City, to Henry D. Tripp, of the same place, and recites the payment of 250 pounds by "my father, Henry Dow Tripp." This would indicate that father and son were then residents of New York City. The land conveyed was lot 15 at Providence.

NOTE I.

On page 10 we have noticed the fact that a Samuel Tripp, son of Isaac, of Exeter, lived in Rhode Island, who may have been a brother of Isaac<sup>5</sup>, of Providence, Pa. This Samuel Tripp married Catherine Jenckes, daughter of Benjamin Jenckes. Their children were :

SARAH, born at Tiverton, R. I., 8 August, 1760.

ABIGAIL, born at Warwick, R. I., 10 July, 1762.

RUTH, born at Warwick, R. I., 16 April, 1764.

MARTHA, born at E. Greenwich, 21 March, 1766, died 1 April, 1766.

BENJAMIN JENCKES, born at E. Greenwich, 19 June, 1768, died 27 February, 1769.

CATHERINE, born at E. Greenwich, 25 August, 1772.

Catherine Jenckes was born 6 September, 1741, and died 30 July, 1793. Samuel Tripp, her husband, died 10 June, 1798.

The prevalence of similar names in the two families adds strength to the opinion that Samuel and Isaac<sup>5</sup> were brothers. I surmise that Ruth, daughter of Samuel, was named for her Aunt Ruth, who married Jonathan Slocum; Martha, daughter of Samuel, named for her aunt Martha, wife of Isaac<sup>5</sup>; Catherine (the writer's grandmother), daughter of Isaac<sup>5</sup>, named for her aunt Catherine, wife of Samuel. This conjecture may be false, but it seems quite plausible.

NOTE 2.

It may interest some readers to know that the writer has seen one of the long lost "Westmoreland Records," and has been permitted to copy the inventory of the estate of Isaac<sup>4</sup> Tripp, which is found on page 84 of said Record. The record is as follows:

At a Court of Probate, holden within and for the District of Westmoreland, April 8, 1782, present Nathan Denison, Esq., Judge, was exhibited the inventory of the estate of Isaac Tripp, Esq., which was ordered to be recorded, and is as follows, viz :
